

Executive Committee Nominees

President - Alyssa Warshay

Alyssa is a fifth year doctoral student in the School Psychology program at Central Michigan University. She grew up in Ferndale, Michigan (in the Detroit area) and completed her undergraduate degree in Psychology at Western Michigan University. When she can make time, she enjoys singing in choir and doing yoga.

Vice-President - Matt Igleski

Matt's research focuses primarily on Batrachochytrium dendro-batidis, a pathogenic fungus, implicated in the recent decline of amphibian populations. Prior to his work at CMU, Matt was a full-time zookeeper and UAW union member at the John Ball Zoo in Grand Rapids. Since coming to CMU, Matt has been without health insurance, which was a standard benefit while employed at the John Ball Zoo. Matt says, "I support the GSU because all graduate assistants should have access to affordable healthcare."

Bargaining Chair - Andy Cox

Andy is a sixth year doctoral student in clinical psychology. He has been a research, teaching, and administrative assistant at CMU, and his current assistantship involves teaching new clinicians how to administer and interpret psychological assessment instruments. Andy is a founding member of the Graduate Student Union. He has worked in nearly every aspect of the union, including planning, organizing, bargaining with the administration, and participation in direct actions (e.g., informational demonstrations). He is originally from Warsaw, VA

Communication Chair - Brian McCabe

Brian is a first year Clinical Psychology Doctoral candidate who has aspirations to become a therapist, researcher, and teacher. Brian has worked for various non-profits as both a full-time employee and a volunteer, performing marketing, management, web design, and quality control tasks. Originally a Flint resident, Brian completed his undergraduate work at Northwestern University in Evanston, Illinois before coming to Central.
